Mainland Police Charge Suspect As Kidnapper

Waitress' Tip Brings Arrest
In Case Involving Engraver

VANCOUVER, Aug. 12 (CP).—Paul Pankowe, a sawmill worker, was arrested and charged tonight with the January kidnapping of Ernest Conduit, 66-year-old engraver. Conduit, formerly of Toronto, was found chained in a heavy metal box in the cellar of a Dunbar district bungalow January 11. He claimed then he had been kidnapped and held captive for five days by a gang of hooded men who wanted a plate made for counterfeit $20 bills.

A police report said further arrests are expected shortly.

SUSPECT IDENTIFIED

Pankowe, the 21-year-old suspect, formerly of Edmonton, was identified tonight by Conduit and five of seven witnesses in a police lineup. The kidnapping charge is believed to be the first in Vancouver police annals. It carries a maximum penalty of 20 years in prison.

Pankowe was arrested on a tip from Helen Wendelberg, 35-year-old waitress who had applied at the kidnap bungalow for a room during the time Conduit was held prisoner.

Conduit, back in January, said he answered an advertisement for an engraver, and was taken to the house by an intermediary. Several hooded men demanded he make plates for bogus $20 bills and when he couldn't oblige with the equipment at hand, he said they shackled him to the box.

When police found the elderly man the kidnappers had fled. Conduit's wrists and ankles were bound with heavy chains. His release followed a neighbor's call to police after she became suspicious of the tenant.

Witness Wendelberg told police tonight she was met by a man she identified as Pankowe when she applied for a room. He would not show her the basement.

Further inquiry showed the house was owned by a Victoria man, Capt. A. B. McKinnon, who rented it to a "blond-haired youth."

Ordered Back to Maine; Flyer Reaches Greenland

HALIFAX, Aug. 12 (CP).—Mrs. Richarda Morrow-Tait, 26-year-old flying housewife, landed safely in Greenland late today after pulling a "Wrong-way Corrigan" from Goose Bay, Labrador, and heading for Britain on the last part of her "round-the-world flight." The R.C.A.F. reported here late tonight she had touched down safely after the 700-mile hop.

The British aviatrix, who set out almost a year ago to circle the globe, touched down at Bluie West One, the United States base in Southern Greenland, the R.C.A.F. here reported.

The plucky red-head now has only two hops left—Greenland to Iceland and Iceland to Scotland—to fulfill a life-long dream of being the first woman to fly around the world in a single-engine plane. Navigator Michael Townsend, also of Canada,

Canada Offers United States Trade in Arms

OTTAWA, Aug. 12 (CP).—Canada has told the United States she'd like to trade her warships, aircraft, ammunition and other military equipment needed for Canadian forces, informed quarters said today.

She had already made such proposals to United States Ambassador Laurence Steinhardt, far from a figurehead envoy, before Defence Secretary Johnson made a one-day visit yesterday for a general survey of defence talk that went on right up to the time he stepped into his Constellation aircraft to fly to Washington.

EXCEEDED HOPE
A Canadian connected with the talks said "they were exceedingly satisfactory . . . they far exceeded the expectations of either side."

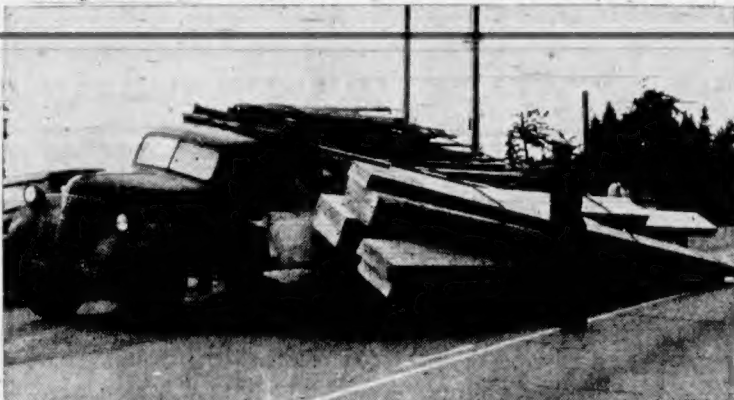

The exchange system, designed to get equipment Canada needs without further straining her United States-dollar position, was further propounded to Mr. Johnson by the Cabinet defence committee. One product Canada is interested in selling is her new anti-submarine destroyer, slated to come into production in 1951.

Mr. Johnson promised full co-operation and followed this up with a public statement that he is "very much in favor" of such an exchange. No hard-and-fast bargains were struck with Mr. Johnson because it wasn't that sort of a conference.

Top-Heavy Load Spills Near Craigflower Bridge

A heavy-loaded truck, driven by Jawant Singh Dhillon, 607 Manchester Street, dumped its cargo of lumber rounding a bend approaching Craigflower Bridge yesterday morning. The city-bound truck is pictured above moments after the accident leaning hard to one side. No persons were injured. The driver is seen in the background giving particulars to Constable D. Kirkpatrick while Constable Fred Clunk inspects the spilled load.

U.K. Faces Coal, Rail Stoppages

LONDON, Aug. 12 (CP).—New threats to Britain's coal production and railway efficiency developed today.

Mine elevator operators snubbed a Government attempt to head off a tie-up and called a strike for next Friday which will cause an estimated 70 per cent cut in coal output.

Leaders of the Colliery Workers' Federation refused a Labor Ministry offer to submit to arbitration their dispute with the National Coal Board.

Railway workers decided to renew Sunday-only token strikes which paralyzed holiday trips from London to the Northeast for four successive week-ends in May and June. They object to schedules which keep them away from home overnight.

SEEK SOLUTION
Government conciliation officials struggled to settle a wage dispute which has led Britain's largest railway workers' union to serve notice it will call a strike if its demands are not met by August 21.

The coal-strike threat came from the Colliery Workers' Federation, whose leaders refused a Government offer to refer to arbitration their wage dispute with the National Coal Board.

The National Coal Board estimated a workers' strike would affect about 300 pits which produce 70 per cent of the country's coal.

Crash Victim Unconscious

ATLANTA, Aug. 12 (AP).—Margaret Mitchell, who gathered the heroism and heartaches of the South's lost cause into "Gone With the Wind," layered near death tonight.

The creator of the famous Civil War romance was slammed to the pavement last night by a drunken driver.

A doctor at the City Hospital said tonight she remains unconscious and her condition is critical.

Starling Swarms "Delay" Big Ben

LONDON, Aug. 12 (AP).—Big Ben, famed London clock atop the Parliament Building, failed to chime at 9 o'clock tonight.

Listeners to the British Broadcasting Corporation's 9 o'clock news were startled to hear the news begin without the familiar Big Ben chimes, signal for the program's start.

The B.B.C. later announced that Big Ben was running four minutes slow—swarms of starlings are sitting on the hands holding them back.

U.S. Market Wide Open For Canada's Jetliner

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (CP).—The United States market is wide open for Canada's new jet airliner, a Government official said tonight.

He declined, however, to estimate how great the American demand may be for the Avro XC-102, which passed initial flight tests Wednesday at Toronto.

Delos W. Rentzel, civil aeronautics administrator, said the Canadian jet was built to conform in every possible way with United States civil air regulations. "Our people have been working with the Canadian Government and the manufacturers on this for quite a time," he told The Canadian Press. "A definite attempt was made to build the ship according to our regulations."

Rentzel told a Senate committee Tuesday that a similar jet development in Britain is a threat to United States superiority in the aircraft manufacturing field. He was referring to the recent successful maiden flight of Britain's De Havilland Comet.

He said today that the Canadian Avro—first jet airliner produced in North America—has "further advanced than the Comet, although not exactly the same type of ship."

Other sources said United States companies likely will be more likely to buy the Canadian jetliner than the British. Canadian and American requirements, facilities and types are historically closely linked, these sources said.

In her flight test, the Avro cruised at 250 miles an hour at 12,000 feet. She is designed to carry 50 passengers at 430 miles an hour at 20,000 feet.

Invite Bids Soon To Block Floods

Tenders will be called by the Provincial Public Works Department within the next few weeks on a $2,500,000 flood control and irrigation project for the Lower Okanagan Valley, it was learned yesterday.

The project will follow the recommendations laid out in the joint Dominion-Provincial Okanagan Flood Control Board report of 1946.

NEW DAM, CANAL
Because half the project is being paid for by the Dominion Government, however, approval of Ottawa has to be obtained before tenders are called. Either Works Minister E. C. Carson or one of the senior officials of the department plans a trip to Ottawa shortly to settle the final details.

The project includes building a new dam at the lower end of Okanagan Lake, digging of a canal between Okanagan and Shuswap Lakes to straighten the winding stream bed of the Okanagan River and various other improvements to the channels draining into Osoyoos and Vaseux Lakes.

TO REBUILD BRIDGES
The spread between maximum and minimum water levels on Okanagan Lake is to be increased from three to four feet by lowering the minimum level one foot. Combined with increased flow capacity in this Spring freshet season, this will eliminate inundation of farm lands in the valley which have caused large losses, in addition to curbing the flooding of Penticton and other areas as in 1942 and 1946.

The work will require the reconstruction of eight to ten bridges, relocation of some pieces of railroad line and several sections of highway.

Spot Typhoon Churning Path To Okinawa

TOKIO, Aug. 13 (Saturday) (INS).—A China Sea typhoon moving in the direction of Okinawa was spotted today and reported to United States Army headquarters in Tokyo.

Reconnoitering Air Force Superforts from Guam discovered the storm in an area 250 miles south-east of Formosa.

The velocity was estimated at 75 knots and it is expected to intensify by the Okinawa Sunday morning (Saturday afternoon in Canada).

American military personnel on Okinawa still are recovering from the effects of a smashing typhoon which slashed across the island late in July, destroying a number of buildings and killing several persons.

BULLETINS

Taken in Tow
SEATTLE, Aug. 12 (AP).—The Coast Guard cutter Balsam has taken the Canadian fishing vessel Capella I in tow 85 miles west of Cape Flattery, a headquarters report said tonight. No information was received on the source of the vessel's trouble or the number of men aboard.

Legal Holidays
OTTAWA, Aug. 12 (CP).—With the coming Christmas and New Year's falling on Sundays, the Government has decided to declare the following Mondays—December 18 and January 2—legal holidays. It was disclosed today in The Canada Gazette.

Rioters Fire Police Car

In one of the worst riots seen in Munich since the days of Adolf Hitler, six Jews and three German policemen were injured earlier this week. Here a German police car goes up in flames after being fired by demonstrators who were protesting an anti-Semitic letter in the local newspaper. The paper claimed that it showed an anti-Semitism, having printed two pro-Jewish letters in the same issue. However, feeling ran high and the riots resulted. Peace was finally restored by two companies of United States military police (who waved away the German police), a military government officer and a Jewish army chaplain.

One nightmarish month later, they put in at Cayenne, French Guiana, and 11 of them stayed ashore. The remaining five soon sailed for Georgetown, British Guiana, with replenished food supplies and reached there July 28.

They pushed doggedly on. Two days out of Port of Spain, food was gone and they lived on weak coffee. Now, they intend to rest; to continue their journey to Laguna, a village on the north coast of Venezuela, west of here.

RISE IN PANIC
A violent three-day storm shattered the bowprit of their craft and split its boom down the middle. The boat started to ship water and food ran short. Meals were cut to two a day, along with three small cups of water.

Rising panic gripped the 16 starving men. One day late in June, the repaired boom swung around and struck Ferns. He was blind for four days.

Big Contract Soon For City Shipyard

Mayhew Says Building Job Coming 'Almost Right Away'

A Government announcement of the awarding of a multi-million-dollar shipbuilding contract to a Victoria shipyard is expected "almost right away."

This assurance came last night from Fisheries Minister R. W. Mayhew, who arrived in the city to begin a two-week vacation yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Mayhew declined to disclose further details regarding the contract.

The anticipated announcement was one of several topics, of both local and Dominion-wide interest, touched upon by the fisheries chief, British Columbia's only Federal Cabinet minister, in interviews yesterday and in Vancouver.

DISAPPOINTED
He expressed disappointment at reports that there will be no construction work done this year on the projected express highway to the Patricia Bay airport.

During the election campaign, Mr. Mayhew announced that the Federal Government had agreed to pay half the cost of either a complete new road or reconstruction of the present highway.

Ottawa estimates this year include a preliminary sum of $120,000 for the work.

The Federal Government has already partially fulfilled its part of the bargain by turning over former R.C.A.F. buildings at the airport for civilian use, Mr. Mayhew said.

HITS ALUMINUM PLAN
Premier Byron Johnson and Works Minister E. C. Carson have stated that there are no qualified personnel available at present to coordinate data and lay out the route of the highway.

The fisheries minister also voiced opposition to the proposed $300,000 development of the Northern British Columbia Chilco River system by the Aluminum Company of Canada on the grounds that the salmon industry would suffer.

"It would do the same to the Fraser fishing industry as the power development did to the Columbia," he said.

OTHER BITES
Mr. Mayhew said it would be "neither fair nor sensible" to jeopardize the $30,000,000 annual revenue from the Chilco area.

He suggested that the company concentrate on other sites they have under observation.

Much money has been spent in rebuilding the salmon runs in the area, the waters of which provide spawning grounds for part of the

Employment In Province Topping 1948

Employment in British Columbia is running ahead of 1948 for the second consecutive month, Trade and Industry Minister H. Eyres said yesterday.

The employment index for May and June was 196.9 and 204, compared with figures of 186.1 and 202 for the same two months in 1948.

Employment for the first six months of this year, however, is slightly down from last year. The index for this year is 190.3 as against 193.6 for 1948.

Churchill Urges Europe To Oppose All Tyranny

STASBOURG, France, Aug. 12 (AP).—Winston Churchill tonight told the townspeople of this war-scarred old French—and German-speaking city that Europe must unite in strength so great "that none will dare molest her tranquility."

Such a united Europe would be based on moral convictions that would win the gratitude of all mankind, he told an outdoor rally of the European Movement which he heads.

The wartime Prime Minister of Britain made his speech on European union to the people after he had spent two days wrangling in the first consultative assembly of the European Council for the assembly's right to parliamentary freedom.

GIVEN OVATION
He spoke in French to the rally of about 1,000 Alsatians and at one point asked: "Are we to sink into final chaos through ideological wars thrust upon us by barbarous and wicked oligarchies . . . ?"

Churchill gave a one-minute ovation and he responded with the familiar V-for-Victory sign.

"We shall protect ourselves against being crushed and stifled out by any form of totalitarian tyranny, whether it be the hated Nazi domination which we have cast out, or by any other form or similar despotism," Churchill told the rally.

Red Meetings Broken Up By Veterans

FRANKFURT, Germany, Aug. 12 (AP).—Former German prisoners of war in Russia today broke up Communist political rallies in two cities as Western Germany's election campaign swept toward a climax. The election for the new Parliament will be held Sunday.

Shouting "We are fed up with the Russians," recently returned prisoners charged into a Communist meeting at Benheim on The Netherlands-German border and chased the speaker from the platform.

One of the former prisoners then addressed the crowd, saying, "In our presence no one will support Soviet sub-humanity."

In the British zone city of Gueltern, former prisoners heckled a Communist speaker, demanding that he describe conditions in the Soviet zone of Germany.

Max Reimann, Number One Communist in West Germany, demanded in another campaign speech that the Germans be "let alone to build up" their Homeland.

He did not mention Communism or Russia.

"Old feuds must die," Churchill said. "Territorial ambitions must be set aside, national rivalries must be confined to proving who can render the truest service to the common cause."

In the assembly earlier, Churchill won a half-victory in the effort to break away from restrictions on what he can talk about. For the second straight day he championed the cause of parliamentary freedom for the 191-man, 12-country body.

U.S. Support Probable For Britain in Hongkong

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (CP).—State Secretary Acheson indicated today that the United States would oppose, at least through the United Nations, any aggressive action by the Chinese Communists to wrest control of the great port of Hongkong from Britain.

At a press conference Acheson stopped short of saying flatly that the United States would back up Britain in Hongkong but he left the way open for such action.

DISCUSSION LIKELY

He also said in response to questions that Foreign Secretary Bevin Britain and he might very well discuss the whole Chinese situation when Bevin comes here for a round of conferences early next month. The primary purpose of the conferences will be to devise ways of tackling Britain's economic crisis.

Also on the Chinese situation, Acheson said that Dr. John Leighton Stuart, United States Ambassador who returned here from China Wednesday, will enter fully into discussions on a new Chinese policy late next week.

The question of Hongkong arose when a reporter asked Acheson whether the United States had reached a decision to back Britain at her Crown colony.

Acheson replied that the United States Government has talked with the British Government about the situation but he said that the answer to the question is very difficult because it depended on what happened and the American Government would have to know what it was backing up.

WILL BACK CHARTER

He added firmly, however, that any action there which violated the United Nations charter would call for action in the Security Council and the United States of course would live up fully to its obligation under the charter.

Acheson did not indicate the scope of the Chinese talks he may have with Bevin but speculation is that they will embrace a much larger territory than Hongkong. Acheson himself had previously stated that as a matter of basic principle the United States should seek to co-operate its moves and major policies in the Far East with the plans of the other Western Powers having interests in that part of the world.

Question Woman In Mainland Holdup
VANCOUVER, Aug. 12 (CP).—A woman was arrested by police late today for questioning in connection with last Saturday's $4,100 robbery of the Bank of Nova Scotia here.

Last night, police arrested 35-year-old Anthony Schlosser.

No Comment

TOKIO, Aug. 12 (Saturday) (INS).—Gen. Douglas MacArthur withheld comment today on the increasing pressure being brought in Washington to recall him to the capital to testify before Congress on the Communist threat in China.

Citizenship Body Advises Control Over Television

OTTAWA, Aug. 12 (CP).—Tele-vision—"A tremendous potential force" for good or evil—should be placed under control of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation or similar body responsible to Parliament, the Canadian Citizenship Council recommended today.

The council, which collaborates with both Provincial and Federal Governments in developing democratic citizenship in the Dominion, presented its views on television, radio, museums and other cultural outgrowths of Canada in a brief prepared for the Royal Commission on Arts and Science Development.

Three Cars In Collision

More than $200 total damage was caused in a three-car accident at the intersection of Douglas Street and Pandora Avenue last night.

Police said the accident occurred when Joseph W. Pedden, 989 Hunter Road, Langley Prairie, was in collision with the rear of a car driven by Alexander Whiteley, 616 Island Highway.

Officers said Whiteley had come to a stop for a red light at the busy intersection.

Whiteley's car, police said, was in turn in collision with a car driven by J. H. Brown, of 3796 Dewdney Avenue. Although there were eight passengers in the three cars, no one was injured, police said.

Sees Suit, Calls Police

When Norman R. Nelson of F.M.C.S. Beacon Hill pays $82 for a suit he doesn't forget what it looks like.

He was surprised at the Douglas Roller Gardens last night when he spotted a man wearing a suit that apparently looked all too familiar.

Nelson went to a telephone and summoned detectives who took the man to the station and charged him with illegal possession of a suit.

The sailor told detectives the suit had been stolen from his locker at the Prince Robert House.

Children, Bear Cubs Play — Game Warden Spoils Fun

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C., Aug. 12 (CP).—Children were having a wonderful time at the Gyro playground here today until a nasty game warden broke up the party.

Three bears, a mother and two cubs, ambled onto the grounds, and soon the small fry were frolicking with the bruits.

Some of the youngsters were even attempting to catch the cubs, described as "quite mature" by adult playground visitors.

They hastily summoned the game warden and the fun was over. The game warden, through the back and a little gunning was planned.

'Five Per Cent' Probe Studying Reported Gift to Mrs. Truman

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (INS).—Senate "Five Per Cent" investigators indicated tonight they will probe reports that Mrs. Truman, Chief Justice Vinson and other top figures were given "home food freezers" by a Chicago perfume firm.

At the same time, a Senate investigator testified that alleged "Five Per Cent" James V. Hunt peddled his influence with President Assistant Steelman. Air Secretary Symington, two key Army generals and Sen. Bridges (R.) N.H.

OFFICIAL SILENCE
The White House and Vinson added little to the official silence that was clamped over the "home food freezer" reports. These reports came to light after Milwaukee businessman Albert Gross testified that on order of the perfume company his firm, which made the freezers, sent one to Major-General Harry Vaughan, presidential military aide.

White House secretary Charles O. Ross, when asked to comment on the reports that the First Lady had been given a freezer by the perfume firm, replied:

"I have no information about that whatever."

"NO COMMENT"
Vinson, after a conference with President Truman, refused to confirm or deny the reports he had received a freezing unit. The Chief Justice, who appeared worried as he left the White House, told reporters:

"I believe I would prefer that the matter be developed by the Senate investigation. I prefer to make no other comment."

Besides the First Lady and Vinson, persons named in the reports as freezer recipients included Federal Reserve Board Governor James

K. Vardaman, ex-naval aide to the President, and George E. Allen, former reconstruction finance corporation director and White House intimate.

STUDY ALL ANGLES
Sen. McCarthy (R.) Wis., a committee member, told newsmen they could be sure the committee is investigating all angles of the "freezer" phase, including a letter of appreciation written Gross by the wife of a very high Government official.

McCarthy was asked whether Mrs. Truman's name was on the list of those who have declared to have received freezers. The Senator answered:

"The committee staff is checking into that as well as the other things. I do not know what all will come out after they have ascertained what the facts are."

Sen. Hoyer (D.) N.C., committee chairman, announced, after a White House conference, that Vaughan is "willing" to testify.

Names Collins As Staff Chief

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (INS).—President Truman today named Gen. Joseph "Lightning Joe" Lawton Collins to be army chief of staff, succeeding Gen. Omar N. Bradley.

Mr. Truman sent the name of Collins, a native of New Orleans, to the Senate for confirmation.

Collins, 55 years old and commander of the Seventh Army Corps in the World War invasion of Normandy, is a graduate of the United States Military Academy.

Soviet Note Brands Yugoslavia As "Enemy," Ally of Capitalism

MOSCOW, Aug. 12 (CP).—Russia today branded Yugoslavia as an enemy of the Soviet Union and an ally of foreign capitalism.

A Soviet note said Yugoslavia is in a bloc with the Western Powers and "more and more is joining up with imperialist circles against the U.S.S.R."

"Let the people of Yugoslavia know," the Russian note said, "the Soviet Government looks on the present Yugoslav Government not as an ally but as an enemy of the Soviet Union."

The note was the fourth in a series of bitter diplomatic exchanges over what the Government of Marshal Tito regards as Russia's abandonment of Yugoslavia territorial claims at the recent Big Four Foreign Ministers' conference in Paris.

The Kremlin attack on Yugoslavia, made public by the Moscow radio, said the Tito Government, as early as April, 1947, was willing to abandon its basic claims for Austrian territory as compensation for war losses but wanted to toss the responsibility for this decision to the Soviet Government.

OUTSIDER IN 1948

(At the Paris Conference, Russia sided with the United States, Britain and France in rejecting Yugoslavia's claim for a slice of Southern Austria. Prior to that meeting, the Soviet Union had supported the Yugoslav demands.)

(The Soviet note referred to Yugoslavia as an "enemy" for the first time despite the fact Tito and the Kremlin have been at political odds for more than a year. In June, 1948, Tito and his top Communist lieutenants were ousted from the Cominform — Russia's network of Eastern European satellites — for alleged deviations from the Marxist-Leninist line as laid down by Moscow.

(In London, diplomatic observers wondered whether this latest outbreak of name-calling might be a forerunner of a sharper Russian policy against Yugoslavia.)

Reclamation Proposals Approved

OTTAWA, Aug. 12 (CP).—The International Joint Commission announced today it has approved three applications for permission to carry out reclamation, storage and irrigation works on international waters in British Columbia.

The commission approved a 1942 application of the Creston Reclamation Company, Limited, for permission to reclaim 8,000 acres of the Kootenay Flats in the Duck Lake area.

Drying of the land from the flood plain of the Kootenay River would cause the level of that stream to rise in the State of Idaho.

The second application was filed by the West Kootenay Power and Light Company of Canada, Limited, and the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada, Ltd. The companies sought permission to store two additional feet of water on Kootenay Lake.

Also approved was an application

As Holidays Dwindle, Children Make Most of Every Day

Big occasion yet to come on city playgrounds are pie-eating contests. Because of expense of pies, elimination contests are being held with soda crackers picked up in teeth and eaten with hands behind the back. Three children above, show how it is done, with varied facial expressions, at Central Park. Left to right are Carol Southworth, 4, Lee Court, Pembroke Street; Ronnie Johnston, 6, Prior Street, and Patsy Martin, 5, 832 Bay Street.

Saanich Buys Big Tank Truck For Fire Fighting in Ward Six

Saanich has purchased from the Home Oil Company a 1,000-gallon tank truck for fire-fighting in Ward Six, Councillor William C. Kersey said yesterday.

The truck is in Vancouver but immediate delivery has been promised. It is a 1938 model and was approved by a municipal mechanic.

The purchase is the direct result of a howl from the Ward Six Ratepayers' Association which demanded better fire protection after a considerable amount of property had been lost or damaged by fire early this Summer. Purchase of a tank truck also was recommended by Fire Chief Joseph Law.

The proposed plan, it is understood, is to station the new truck at Saanichton and have it operated by one of two volunteers. When a fire is reported in the area, the tank truck will attend with the fire department.

IT WAS A CAR!

It was a car, but Constable Keith Stollert was doubtful. Observing a car driven erratically around the downtown section, the constable drove the driver down for the purpose of asking a few questions and examining the car.

This is what he found: The driver had no driver's licence for which he will face a suitable charge; the car had no brakes, no horn, no lights, and defective steering. The car was placed in the police station parking lot and the car must be towed away.

POSTMASTER HONORED

Postmaster J. B. Sinclair, guest speaker, was made an honorary member of the Vancouver Island Philatelic Society at a meeting of the group at the Empress Hotel. Post office operation was described by public relations officer Allan Davis with the aid of a film.

QUELL BLAZE

A storage house blaze which yesterday morning threatened to ignite dozens of cartons of matches was quelled by city firemen before any real damage was caused.

The fire was at the Duncan Storage Building, 523 Bastion Street, just behind the court house. It occurred while workmen were shifting a large bale of cotton. Many wooden parts of the bale struck a match box, igniting the contents. The flames soon touched off the straw, but the city fire department arrived before the blaze had a chance to get away. Because it is an old part of the city, Fire Chief Robert T. Brindle dispatched to the scene two dump trucks, a service truck, an aerial ladder wagon and two cars.

PASSENGER INJURED

Richard Jones, 525 Simcoe Street, is in St. Joseph's Hospital suffering from a possible fractured skull received in a car accident early yesterday morning near the intersection of the Island Highway and Thetis Lake Road.

Jones was a passenger in a car, driven by Edward Taylor, 2528 Rose Street, which turned over in a ditch near the intersection. Jones was taken to hospital in an unconscious condition by the Victoria Ambulance Service.

The driver and other passengers in the car were examined for injuries but not detained in hospital. J. P. Kavic owned the car. Constable D. C. Callin attended for British Columbia Police.

CARS COLLIDE

An aggregate damage of $180 was caused in a two-car collision at the intersection of Oak Bay and Jubilee Avenues at 3 p.m. yesterday.

City police said a car driven east on Oak Bay Avenue by Roy H. Temple, 1282 St. Patrick Street, was in collision with a car driven east on Oak Bay Avenue and turning left onto Jubilee Avenue by George Taylor, 1178 Port Street.

City Officials Welcome B.C.'s Aid on Sea Wall

City officials yesterday expressed satisfaction over the Provincial Government's offer to meet it half way on costs of repairing the Dallas Road sea wall which crumbled under a lashing storm last Winter.

Premier Byron I. Johnson announced the Province was prepared to pay 50 per cent of the cost of repairing the wall. He added, however, that the contribution would be limited to a maximum of $50,000.

CHAIRMAN PLEASED

Alderman Dr. J. D. Hunter, chairman of the public works committee, who has carried out negotiations with the provincial public works department on the sea wall question, said he was pleased the province had "agreed to go this far."

Following a meeting of the public works committee yesterday afternoon he advised that the committee would ask City Council on Tuesday to approve repair plans for this year estimated to cost $37,000.

HAVE $35,000

City Council placed $70,000 in its preliminary estimates this year for the repair work, but the item was later cut to $37,000 when the budget was passed down.

Basis of the city's application for assistance was that the Province had shared in the cost of the original structure. In 1911 the Province contributed $20,000 toward the cost and the city paid a total of $120,000.

Partially Blind, Man Injured

An elderly, partially-blind man was slightly injured at 5:30 p.m. yesterday when in collision with an automobile at the corner of Gorge and Balfour Roads.

City police said they took 69-year-old George Fowler, of 45 Gorge Road, to Royal Jubilee Hospital suffering a head cut and an injured left arm.

Operator of the automobile was Harold M. Peasland, 3131 Donald Street, who was proceeding west on Gorge when the accident occurred, police said.

Fowler was crossing Gorge from the southwest corner of Balfour to the west of Gorge and apparently failed to see the automobile approaching and walked in front of it, police said.

The automobile was impounded as it was not insured.

Ask Reading For Britons

The people of England are hungry for Canadian newspapers and magazines, according to a letter received recently by P. Yeomans, 1423 Thurlow Road, from a friend in Liverpool, England.

The Liverpool writer, in thanking Mr. Yeomans for a bundle of publications from Canada, said they had been distributed among hospital patients, and had been appreciated to the fullest extent. Any Victorian interested in helping people of Liverpool and surrounding area with Canadian newspapers, magazines, or any other publications, is asked to send them to O. E. Chesworth, 8 Eltham Street, Liverpool 7, England.

Mr. Chesworth guarantees "that every publication sent to England will be read 'at least ten times over' by hospital patients and others."

Girl's Pluck Saves Twenty-Seven Lives

STEWARTS probably saved the Maryland crash of an eastern airliner this week from being a holocaust. While pilot and co-pilot fought to bring flames under control after a sudden crash landing, the air stewardess shepherded the entire passenger complement of the airliner through the third, and last, door. Before that she had found the main door and also the emergency exit blocked. As such decisions have to be made in split seconds, it was the presence of mind of this young woman which prevented the plane from becoming a human pyre.

Making allowance for the fact that 99 per cent of all commercial flying on standard airways is going through safely day by day, when trouble comes in the air the situation is tense and critical in the extreme. The fine traditions of the service began with men in combat over enemy lines, with hardy bush pilots pioneering in out-of-the-way places, and has led to a long succession of acts of cool courage in the air. These traditions are being brightly maintained, and indeed enhanced, by the women who have come to take their part in the air crews of civilian flying.

Transportation has a fine tradition of its own, to see that the passenger is taken care of first. The quick presence of mind by which this has been done on occasions has diverted many an accident, and saved others from becoming grim fatalities with loss of human lives. There may be no special reward for such personal services, but one feels that there should be; that this type of service is courage when it counts.

Directional Lines Would Be of Some Benefit

DISTURBED over the continued confusion of traffic at the "Fountain" intersection, the City Council's transportation committee this week offered a recommendation meriting consideration as a temporary means of easing the congestion. It suggests that pending arrival of a permanent control plan using traffic lights, islands, or other ways of guiding vehicles into channels, immediate steps should be taken to paint directional lines on the roadways.

It is unfortunate that another tourist season should have passed the peak without any improvement having been made at the Fountain. Visiting motorists trying to find their way up Island daily continue to tangle with fuel trucks, lumber carriers, stage coaches, municipal buses and private cars driven by local people almost as confused as the visitors themselves by uncontrolled streams of traffic going in six different directions.

Most people will agree with the chairman of the transportation committee that the indication of lanes by means of white lines would be better than nothing. Any such plan should be treated as a temporary expedient, however, and should not be regarded as a substitute for the permanent controls for which a need has long been obvious. Painted lines on a heavily-traveled roadway have a way of disappearing, and to be effective they require constant renewal. Moreover they serve merely to point the way, and while this would be a help at the Fountain, it would not meet the final problem of control of flow of vehicles.

Fourteen Years in Public Life of City

FOURTEEN years of unbroken service in the interests of the City of Victoria is a new record, and Acting Mayor Edward Williams will carry the sincere good wishes of the community with him when he retires from civic office at the end of this year. His service on the City Council was never perfunctory, often challenging and at times instrumental in supplying the backbone necessary to getting civic things done. A fighter by instinct, Alderman Williams has always been ready to accept the hard knocks of public office and to take them in his stride.

Probably only one who has served for nearly a decade and a half in municipal administration can have as just a conception of the strains and effort of that contribution. Public service is never easy, and in modern times it has led to great pressures on the time and energy of those holding elective and other office. As a veteran alderman, Mr. Williams has served on almost every committee of the City Council, its advisory boards and auxiliary services. His particular contribution has included a close knowledge of the building trade, which has been of considerable benefit to the city.

In his own experience the Acting Mayor has bridged the gap between the once-small and struggling community, to the present metropolitan area with its complexities and problems. If it is his wish to step down, there will be none to say that this is not his right. Yet, it will be strange to think of a City Council meeting without Alderman Williams.

BETTER TENNIS FACILITIES

Sir.—Your editorial of August 10 re young tennis players was very timely, I would say, and deserves serious consideration by city authorities, particularly the Parks Board, also the executives of local tennis clubs.

Good tennis players, male and female, almost without exception, are developed from youth and, according to the records in the United States, begin battling a ball around on public tennis courts. Later, through training, they join private clubs for further development. This is borne out by the finalists in the Provincial tournament just completed in Victoria. All the winners were from the United States.

Mr. J. V. McArthur replied to your editorial on August 11, stating the facilities offered by the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club, and I believe that he is fundamentally correct; but that does not begin to cover the situation. For instance, the City of Vancouver, which has developed many outstanding tennis players, has at least 100 public hard courts, compared with Victoria which I understand, has 14—only four of which are hard courts.

I am sure that a good many authorities on tennis would agree with me that hard courts are not only the most economical, but also the most satisfactory, to develop players; also much more play is available for longer periods.

The solution, to my mind, is to convince our city representatives and the Parks Board that city parks are not only places for beautiful flowers and recreation for older people, but fundamentally to entice young people into the open air and to learn to enjoy good healthy sport. I believe that one of the best games to develop good sportsmanship, together with healthy exercise, and available to a large number is the game of tennis.

Some taxpayers might think here goes more money. That might be true in one sense; but I understand that the experience in Vancouver has been that where they put blocks of six hard courts in one location they pay for themselves in three years, by a small dues which is paid by players over a given age.

The cost of maintaining hard courts is practically negligible compared with the cost of maintaining highly cultivated public parks and grass courts.

I would like to see this subject discussed by other youth-minded citizens through your paper, with the object in mind of convincing our city authorities of their deplorable short-sightedness in not providing more facilities for playing and for developing players for this fine game.

C. A. HENLEY.

BUILDING WITH HISTORY

Sir.—The proposed demolition of the Marine Building on Wharf Street is yet another example of the working of the bureaucratic mind. For what reason is this fine old example of brick construction to be torn down? Are the claims of alleged progress perhaps in the form of a larger sand and gravel wharf, to be advanced as the justification? A. L. Rowe, the Oxford historian, well characterized the type of mentality represented when he wrote about "our own barbarians who know nothing either of history or beauty, who, in fact, being uneducated in the full sense of the word, know nothing, see nothing, understand nothing, appreciate nothing, and whose lives are certainly brutish, if unfortunately they are neither solitary nor short." It would seem that the same breed flourishes here.

The building in question was not completed until 1875 and does not, therefore, date back to colonial days. As a matter of fact, the construction of both the Marine Building and the Post Office which is now being torn down, was initiated as the result of the tour of inspection of the then Minister of Public Works, the Hon. H. L. Langevin, in August, 1871, just after British Columbia had entered Confederation.

From "Pre-Existence"

I laid me down upon the shore
And dreamed a little space
I heard the great waves break and roar
The sun was in my face

The grains of sand so shining small
Soft through my fingers ran
The sun shone down upon it all
And so my dream began

How all of this had been before
How ages far away
I lay on some forgotten shore
As here I lie today

I have forgotten whence I came,
Or what my home might be
Or by what strange and savage name
I called that thundering sea

I only know the sun shone down
As still it shines today
And in my fingers long and brown
The little pebbles lay

Smelly Perennial

By FRANK M. KELLEY

WHEN Government Street ended at Humboldt, and the street continuing southerly from the far end of the long wooden bridge spanning James Bay was still known as Birdcage Walk, many complaints were voiced, privately and in the press over the odors emanating, particularly during the Summer months, from the flats of mud when the tide was out.

Then the whole water side of Belleville Street from the west corner of Douglas House grounds to the Blanshard Street sidewalk was utilized as a City dump. For years the scavenger carts had been collecting refuse from the business and residential sections of Victoria and some ground had been reclaimed there by the time the Canadian Pacific became interested in building a hotel overlooking the harbor.

Naturally, with the ebb and the flow of the tide, certain smells heavier than air were carried near and far, making nausea for susceptible eyes and nostrils. The drifting litter was not a pretty sight from the old bridge, along the piers of which it seemed to concentrate through wind and tide action. Nothing was ever done about the complaints, however, and but for the enterprise of some wood-burning folk, domiciled in cabins along Kanaka Row, the trouble could have been much worse.

With facilities for "drying" water-soaked wood nearby, boatmen scoured the harbor and retrieved anything burnable; while one character, the celebrated "Bill Nye," was a consistent scavenger. At no cost to the city, he paddled the harbor daily in a large barrel he manipulated with considerable skill as he stowed the harvest of scrap wood in all the available space about his kneeling person.

Although in lesser degree, smells still contribute to the making of atmosphere for the local waterfront in the vicinity of the Causeway. It was suggested at one time that the mud along the bottom of the facing, uncovered at certain stages of the tide, should be dredged away; but as this was purposely left there as a retaining "wall" when the stone-work was completed, engineers, fearful of what might happen through pressure from behind, recommended this material be not disturbed, the logical thing to do, in their considered opinion, being to build a real retaining wall of stone, with a promenade along the face of the Causeway, well below the level of the street.

As long as litter can be tossed into the harbor from vessels tied up at local piers, and tides and winds continue to concentrate the harbor debris along the base of the Causeway, Victoria will retain its own particular brand of scent. Litter and smell provide two good reasons which should justify the appointment of a Harbor Commission. Doing away with both would be the responsibility of such a body.

Our combination of winds, tides and smells might well be called a "smelly perennial." Originator of complaints for sixty years, at least, the combination has given rise to suggestions of varied value at times. Certain citizens have devoted a lot of thought to the end that the waterfront be kept free of unsightly jetsam and over-pungent odors. There were the entirely feasible plans prepared by Architect Thomas Sorby, which were approved by Ottawa. His plans, however, slight-appealing as they were, went the way of all suggestions ever made. There never has been much unanimity where matters pertaining to the harbor have been under consideration. Let us hope Alderman Banfield's appeal for the co-operation of waterfront interests in maintaining a "clean" harbor will meet with better success.

GILDED CAGE

The Atom Master

By RAYMOND MOLLEY

NEW YORK.—Tucked away in the Senate bill that proposes to set up a totalitarian Columbia Valley Administration is a section that may well be the handiwork of David Lillenthal or one of his own special bent of mind. He was, of course, the boss of the T.V.A., which provided the inspiration for this vastly more authoritarian scheme for the Northwest.

The provision says, "The doctrine of beneficial consumptive use of water shall be recognized, and in the event of any conflict between the purposes for which the waters of the region may be used, preference shall be given to atomic energy requirements for national defence and to domestic requirements for national defence and mining and industrial purposes."

Why the latter purposes should be repeated in this way is not clear, since they are the original and professed purposes of the whole scheme. Perhaps a clever bill writer put them in to indicate an order of priority which a friendly Supreme Court can use if the occasion requires it. Perhaps it is to take the edge off the implication that the real purpose is to shroud in the mysticisms of the atomic energy project any suggestion that the rulers of the C.V.A. shall not have paramount power.

It shows, however, how the architects of the welfare state use more than one justification for their purposes of control. If the vague term "general welfare" fails, they fall back upon national defence, and finally upon the misty atmosphere of atomic energy.

All this may suggest that the real impact of atomic energy may fall not upon the cities and armies of Russia, but upon the remains of freedom in the United States. For if the Russian threat can be kept alive, our activities in developing atomic energy can be so controlled as to provide a perfect bureaucratic means of regimenting our life when that source of power is ready to use for domestic and civilian purposes.

It is clear that when atomic energy has been developed for non-military uses it may well rank with or supplant power from water and coal. We have already seen how utterly monopolistic power over coal, through John L. Lewis, can make presidents and Congresses dance to its tunes. The government's projects, in water power, especially this plan for a C.V.A., can regiment vast sections of the country. Control of atomic energy can do it better, and with more bureaucratic secrecy.

Ultimately, therefore, atomic energy will be, if present purposes are carried out, the means for an over-all regimentation not only of our business life but of all life. We all will be the first conquests of the atom.

Amalgamation Was Easy

(From The Telegram, Toronto)

WINDSOR, which has had a metropolitan police force for 14 years, is surprised by the controversy aroused in Toronto by the suggestion that the force here be expanded.

Windsor's police problem in 1935 was part of a large political problem—amalgamation of the four municipalities of Windsor, East Windsor, Sandwich and Walkerville. But the job of uniting the four police forces turned out to be no problem at all, Windsor Chief Claude Renaud says. "We just joined them all together and that was all there was to it. We had no trouble, not even with personnel."

Even though the four forces had worked together well while they were separate their union brought about smoother co-ordination. It also cut down on administration expenses and overlapping to have one central executive instead of four. Uniform hours of work also were instituted by the move.

Officials here consider the Windsor force's expansion to be the best example of a metropolitan force in Canada. They have studied its smooth changeover and operation.

The total strength of the Windsor force is now 180 and the city's population is 120,000, while Toronto has a police force of 1,229 and a population of about 700,000. Suburban police strength totals 243 for a population of about 280,000.

When the Windsor forces united, one of the four chiefs was selected to be chief of the enlarged force and the other chiefs became inspectors. At that time jurisdiction was a city of 64,000 plus suburbs with total population of 37,000.

The Windsor change-over was made with so little difficulty that Chief Renaud was surprised that he should be asked about it.

Advocates of a metropolitan force in Toronto have studied, as well as the Windsor force, the forces in New York and other United States cities that have acted on their belief a larger force could act with much greater efficiency in a heavily populated area. One of the advantages they cite is that one force gets radio wavelength the same all over the area and this speeds co-operation. Windsor's police radio system was put in four years after the police force united.

But the best example of the metropolitan force, advocates believe, remains that in London, England. Police here have studied reports sent from London and praise the apparent efficiency with which the London force operates in its large thickly populated area.

SHE GOT HER LIGHT

A lady of our acquaintance recently conducted a one-woman campaign to have a traffic light installed at a busy intersection near her home. She telephoned the city commissioners and then went down and braved the municipal lions in their dens. But no dice! All she could get from the town fathers was: "Be careful when you're crossing the street, and you won't need a traffic light."

Then the lady sat down and wrote them a series of letters, each of which ended with this plaintive phrase: "How can I possibly cross the street when the cars and trucks keep coming this way!"

She got her traffic light.

T'm afraid someone very near to you is going to be disappointed," said the crystal gazer.

"T'm afraid you're right," confessed the client, "I've come out without any money."

The Packsack

By GREGORY CLARK

A BACKWOODS friend of mine found a tiny fawn about two weeks old, staggering along a bush road. Now, while this man will shoot an old and faithful dog the minute it becomes a nuisance, and will peel the hide off a beaver or a mink without any qualms, he is at heart, like most backwoodsmen, a very compassionate man. He went to a distance and watched a full hour to be sure the doe did not find the fawn; and then, assuming it to be an orphan or a twin that had strayed, he collected the fawn, brought it out to his cabin, where, that afternoon, a passing bush pilot picked it up and took it to the Summer home of one of the best deer hunters I know among city men.

The poor little starved creature—it had obviously been lost more than the day—was fed condensed unseasoned milk and pabulum. It survived. It began to grow. In two weeks, it was doubled in size, was sleeping on a mat behind the kitchen stove, roved the woods around the cottage and came when called. It developed a tremendous taste for pretzels, and would hurl itself at the screen door of the kitchen until admitted, and then would mince to the pretzel drawer and wave its ears in a most commanding gesture for so ravishing and ethereal a creature.

My dear hunting friend has seen fawns before, but never played host to one. No matter how many motion pictures, paintings or statues of fawns you may have seen, you are utterly unprepared for the real thing.

There is an absolutely breath-taking beauty about them, the appreciation of which grows with every hour. Their angularity opposed to their elfin grace touches something deep in your nature. My deer-hunting friend is in one of the major quarries of his life. The game warden has told him to leave it behind, free, in September. But last week, the host to the fawn quietly removed two sets of deer antlers that decorate his cottage living-room. "The fawn," he explained, "will be old enough to notice things in a few days. . . ."

Suggest Dates To Shoot Deer

LADYSMITH, Aug. 12—If the Sayward area is closed to deer hunting this season, then the whole of Vancouver Island should be closed, according to the Ladysmith Fish and Game Protective Association. Members fear a sudden influx of hunters to this area. "We have not many deer to start with," said Hugh McKenzie, association secretary.

"If we cannot get a closed season," a resolution to the affiliated associations states, "we strongly suggest that the deer season come in one week after blue grouse." This would give the deer warning of the hunting season, and put them on guard, which should have a beneficial effect upon conservation.

In general discussion on the subject, members felt that Ladysmith had been just as hard hit by climatic conditions as any other area during the winter.

WANT BOW HUNTING

A second resolution dealt with a recent order in council barring use of bows and arrows for hunting. Ladysmith supported Courtenay's resolution asking that the motion be rescinded. Main reason for the stand was that members believed the fish and game protective associations should have been approached for their opinion on the question before any such action was taken.

Again, there are no bow and arrow hunters in this area. There will be no deer hunting trophies put up this year in view of the proposed short season.

German Women in England Study British Way of Life

Six German women have been in Britain studying the British way of life. As part of a progressive German educational policy, the United Kingdom Government paid their fares over and allowed them a maintenance allowance for the whole time they were in the country—about three weeks.

Carefully selected for outstanding ability in their own professions, the German women include Frau Maria Treuskow, a famous textile designer and interior decorator; Frau Maria May, also a German textile designer and principal of the Landeskunstschule in Hamburg; Frau Katschner of Düsseldorf, who worked as a foreign correspondent for various papers until 1945, and is the mother of two small boys; Frau Elizabeth Boendel of Aurich, who has a diploma for landscape gardening and has now started a progressive women's organization, and Dr. Holzapfel of Berlin, who has done research on silicates which led to a study of silicates and silicone.

The German women were invited to Britain by the British Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs and their program was organized by them, while club members acted as hostesses. They visited a large London chain store to see the modern concept of personnel management. At the show's training centre they saw methods of recruitment and the training and selection of workers. At the Continental Telephone Exchange they saw the work done by women not only as telephone operators, but as supervisors and in technical work. At the Westminster Employment Exchange, they were given information on training and vocational guidance, scholarships and apprentice schemes, while the Royal College of Nursing emphasized the new attitude to the selection and training of nurses.

A visit to the House of Commons impressed the Germans. They commented on the freedom of parliamentary procedure, which nevertheless retained an impressive dignity.

The two textile designers, Frau May and Frau von Treuskow, visited Nottingham and Manchester and saw the work of women in a textile area, including social welfare, commercial, industrial and technical work at administrative and managerial levels. They were both much impressed with modern British standards of design.

Perhaps the most important impact of the German women's visit was their conviction that women in Germany must somehow come to the same sense of responsibility as women in Britain.

"In Germany," said Frau May, "we have to apologize for being women with serious careers. Now we are going back to fight the apathy and lack of responsibility which condemns women to an isolated life in the home."

Fine Tapestries Show at Glasgow

A magnificent display of tapestries now to be seen in Scotland is the most important and largest collection in existence. They form part of the Burrell collection, which is being exhibited in Glasgow during the summer.

They date from the end of the 14th to the beginning of the 16th century.

The earliest example shown is a fragment from Angers Cathedral, France. It forms part of a series based on the Apocalypse, which is the most famous of all sets of tapestry, by reason of the fact that it has survived almost intact for over 600 years. There are religious themes, pastoral scenes, hunting panoramas, and classical legends, retold in contemporary settings and costumes.

Although tapestries form the most striking feature of the exhibition they by no means exhaust its attractions. There are at least 23 other aspects of art represented among the 1,200 priceless objects displayed.

HONORED BY CHOIR
The members of Centennial United Church choir gathered in the schoolroom on Tuesday evening to honor Mrs. Glen Shantz, a member for many years' standing, who is leaving to take up residence in Port Moody.

The president, Mr. F. Godsalve, in a short speech, paid tribute to the faithfulness of Mrs. Shantz as a member and her cheerful readiness to assist in the various activities of the choir. She was presented with a corsage bouquet and an electric clock from the members.

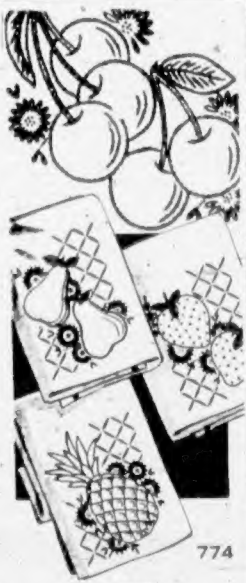

A short social period was enjoyed and refreshments were served by the social committee.

The Misses Joan Saul, Margaret Painter and Joyce Coleman, members of the staff of the Bank of Montreal, who are leaving shortly to be married, were honored by fellow staff members at a tea held at the Empress Hotel recently. About 40 members were present and Mrs. J. A. L. Collison and Miss V. French poured tea.

Many think that, after they eat a meal, by the time all the nourishment has been removed by the small intestine, the wastes from that meal reach the large intestine within a few hours. The truth is that, generally speaking, it takes 48 hours for the wastes to reach and leave the large intestine. Even in a healthy individual, while most of the waste will leave the body in two days, some of it may remain in the bowel for four to five days. If too much waste accumulates in the large intestine, it drags on the nerves and causes tiredness.

MOTHERS WASH DAY HELPER

Married at Centennial United

MR. AND MRS. SYDNEY M. N. POYER

Betty Knudsen and S. Poyer Wed at Centennial United

Tall baskets of pastel toned gladioli and other Fall flowers—were used to decorate Centennial United Church last Saturday evening for the wedding of Margaret Elizabeth "Betty" Knudsen, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. S. Knudsen, 3841 Carey Road, and Mr. Sydney Melbourne Nevanus Poyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Poyer, Chilliwack, B.C. The Rev. W. R. Ashford performed the ceremony and Mr. Dick Sneddon sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a cream slipper satin gown fashioned with off-the-shoulder neckline caught with pearls, and bouffant skirt caught up to show lace ruffles at the hemline. Orange blossoms trimmed her embroidered calot which held her floor-length alyon tulle veil... A bouquet of gardenias and heather completed her ensemble.

The Misses Pat and Peggy Knudsen, the bride's sisters, were bridesmaids and wore identical gowns of ice blue corded taffeta with wide bertha collars and bouffant skirts. They had circular headresses of white net and white sweetpeas and white lace mitts. Their bouquets were of pastel toned sweetpeas.

Mr. Bill Poyer, the groom's brother, was best man and another brother, Dr. Harold Poyer of Vancouver and Mr. Jack Puffer of Chilliwack, ushered.

A reception was held at Hampton Hall for 150 guests where mothers of the bride and groom assisted in receiving the former wearing a lavender blue two-piece dress with navy accessories and the latter in a navy blue ensemble with pink accessories. A four-tiered wedding cake centred the lace covered table. The toast was proposed by Mr. J. Hopkins.

A reunion of four R.C.A.P. fellow prisoners of war who spent two years together at Stalag Luft III, Germany, Mr. Sydney Poyer, Mr. E. Bell, Mr. Art Watson and Mr. Bill McKinley took place at the reception.

Later the young couple left on a honeymoon Up-Island, the Malahand and via the United States to the Okanagan Valley and Prince George where they will make their home. The bride travelled in a forest-green gabardine suit, white and navy hat, grey accessories and gardenia corsage.

Scientist Ready for Dive in Sphere Into Unexplored Depths of Ocean

VENTURA, Calif., Aug. 12 (INS)—Scientist Otto Barton of Boston tonight was ready to make the deepest plunge into the ocean ever attempted by man.

Sometimes Saturday the veteran sea explorer climbs into his shiny new bathysphere, weighing 3½ tons and capable of withstanding 2,664 pounds of water pressure per square inch, to begin his historic plunge.

A bottle of scientific vessels will join forces to lower Barton—6,000 feet into the deep depths of the Pacific, 20 miles off Smokey Cove on Santa Cruz Island of the Santa Barbara Channel Islands group.

GIGANTIC VALLEY
At this point off America's West Coast, the ocean bottom falls away into a gigantic marine valley, said to be teeming with oceanic life, including many creatures which have never been studied by science before.

Should there be the slightest slightest undetected flaw in the diving bell at the mile-below level, the tons of pressure of the black and treacherous depths would crush it like an eggshell.

Barton's diving bell is said to be the last word in engineering feats of its kind. It is capable of remaining for six hours at a mile-below-the-surface depth.

The bathysphere of Dr. William Beebe was capable of remaining at a depth of 3,023 for a five-minute period only off Bermuda in 1934.

YEARS OF WORK
Barton accompanied Dr. Beebe on the now-historic descent off Bermuda. Ever since that venture he has devoted his time toward the perfecting of the diving bell which would better that record and leave a mark for decades to come.

Barton will make the descent alone. His bathysphere is equipped with a telephone communication system to enable him to dictate notes to secretaries aboard the surface vessels.

At the mile-depth to which he will be lowered tomorrow, the light of day has never penetrated.

TO TAKE PICTURES

The bathysphere is equipped with two huge "eyes" of fused quartz. Giant searchlights will flood the ocean floor within the vicinity of the diving bell. Barton will photograph the weird denizens of the deep he will undoubtedly see swimming in the underwater forests and canyons.

Barton's diving bell is close to five feet in diameter and will comfortably carry two men in a sitting or kneeling position. The bathysphere was completed at a cost of $15,000.

Although the bell weighs 3½ tons out of water, it weighs only 1½ tons under water due to displacement.

Engineers who have studied Barton's bathysphere estimate that it is quite capable of surviving dives at a 10,000-foot depth.

The bell is covered with a 1½-inch steel wall.

A 900-pound super steel cable, 6,500 feet long, and capable of toting five tons, will lower Barton into the ocean. The cable is comprised of 504 individual wires and they are counter-wound so as to prevent rotation at a ticklish moment in the record dive.

The bathysphere also is equipped with a cylinder of oxygen. Carbon dioxide and water are eliminated through absorption by screens of soda-lime. An electric fan affords the air circulation.

The veteran sea explorer said the bathysphere will open up new vistas for science and pave the way for important new discoveries to benefit mankind.

Former Communist in Canada Describes "Studies" in Moscow

NEW YORK, Aug. 12 (CP)—John Hladun (alias Jack Logan), former member of the Communist Party of Canada, testified today at a deportation hearing that he had been a student at the International Lenin School in Moscow where he studied methods of overthrowing governments by force and violence.

Hladun appeared as a Government witness in a deportation case against Meyer Klig, an alleged member of the Communist Party.

Favor Increase in Cable Rates
LONDON, Aug. 12 (CP)—Virtual elimination of the present ceiling rates on radiograms and cables between British Commonwealth countries and the United States was agreed upon today at a Commonwealth-United States conference on communications.

Delegates decided to raise the ceiling for commercial cables from 30 to 40 cents a word and for press traffic from 8½ to 10 cents a word. The decisions do not apply to the rates per word between Commonwealth countries. For instance, the Empire press rate of a penny (two cents) a word is not affected.

The new rates probably will go into effect July 1, 1950.

Cellar Yields Vein of Gold
KIRKLAND LAKE, Ont., Aug. 12 (CP)—A vein of gold has been discovered in the cellar of a rooming-house in the heart of this busy northern Ontario mining town.

But just how rich it is and how far it extends has not yet been determined.

Frank Dunlop, president of the Kirkland Township Gold Mines, which owns mineral rights throughout the area, has termed it "an interesting surface showing."

None Injured As Bus Burns

POMONA, Calif., Aug. 12 (INS)—Ten passengers and the driver escaped from a flame-enveloped Greyhound bus near Pomona today. The eleven persons leaped to safety when the eastbound bus was brought to a halt at the foot of a steep hill. The group watched flames completely destroy the bus.

Ahmed N. Abrehim of Los Angeles, who witnessed the near-tragedy, told authorities:

"The bus came down the hill about 50 miles an hour, throwing out smoke and heavy sparks as it passed me. Almost instantly flames burst out. The rear of the bus was soon in flames."

The accident was similar to the bus disaster in Bloomington, Ind., earlier in the week in which more than a dozen persons were burned to death.

Unions Contend Mainland Shipyards Can Pay 25-Cent-an-Hour Increases

Recent profits of Burrard Drydock Co., Vancouver, are being cited by spokesmen for shipyard unions, now in consultation with employers in Vancouver, as indication of the industry's ability to pay 25-cent-an-hour wage increases.

Employer representatives are expected to begin criticism of the union brief at final conciliation hearings.

Shipyard employers both here and in Vancouver have countered union demands with a suggested dollar-a-day cut in wages for new ship construction.

ATTACK CONTENTION
Using statistics compiled by the Vancouver Trade Union Research Bureau, the unions attack management's contention that prevailing wage rates are making competition with Eastern yards difficult, if not impossible.

They contend that in 1948, which they term a year of "very moderate activity" in British Columbia shipbuilding, Burrard made more than one and one-half times the profits made by the Eastern firm of Canadian Vickers Ltd.

QUOTE PROFITS
Burrard's profits, before tax, for 1948 were $3,165,780; Vickers, $2,980,361, they say.
This represented a rate of profit of 43.8 per cent for the British Columbia firm, as compared with 29.2 per cent for the Eastern firm, the brief pointed out.

Except in 1946, Burrard has consistently earned a higher rate of profit than the Eastern yard, it is contended.

In 1947, the British Columbia firm showed a net profit before tax of $3,141,928, or 22 per cent, the union claimed.

CITES AVERAGE PROFIT
The brief notes that, according to Federal Government statistics, the average profits before tax for all Canadian corporations in 1946 were 12.7 per cent.

"Thus Burrard Drydock Co. in 1948 made five times the average rate of profit in Canadian industry," the brief indicates that the industry is in difficulties.

If, as employers claim, shipbuilding costs are too high in British Columbia, the Trade Union Research Bureau does not think that these costs can be attributed to high wages.

Direct wages represent 26.5 per cent of total shipbuilding costs and 48.3 per cent of total ship repair costs, according to the Burrard financial statement for 1947.

WAGE-COST RATIO
"Each 10 per cent increase in wages," the brief continues, "raises the cost of shipbuilding by only 2.6 per cent and of repairs, by only 1.8 per cent."

"On the combined shipbuilding and repair work for 1947, the proportion of direct wages to total costs was 31.8 per cent. Hence, each 10 per cent added to the wage bill increases costs by 3.2 per cent."

Duncan Court Sets Penalty

Douglas Joss of Victoria was fined $50 and $4 costs by Magistrate G. A. Tisdall in Duncan police court yesterday when found guilty on a dangerous driving charge arising out of an accident July 29 on Cowichan Bay Road.

Joss was the driver of a car in collision with another in charge of John Woods of Duncan.

Shooting Stars Provide Good Show

If you like to watch "shooting stars" and don't mind staying up a little late, the last three nights were pretty good times says the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory.

Dr. Andrew McKellar, astronomer on Observatory Hill, Saanich, said the annual "Perseid Meteors" shower — sometimes called the "Tears of St. Lawrence" — were visible in

The meteor shower appears each year between August 10 and 12 when the earth passes through a "cloud" of small heavenly bodies which become heated and glow as they come in contact with the earth's atmosphere.

The shower was named after the constellation "Perseus" from whose direction the "shooting stars" seem to appear said Dr. McKellar.

Aldermen Rule Signal Stays

The public works committee yesterday ruled out any possibility that the stop-and-go signal recently installed at the intersection of Oak Bay Avenue and Richmond Road would be removed.

Proposal to remove the light was made last week by Ernest D. Todd, 508 Island Road, who suggested installation of a flashing warning signal as an alternative. The suggestion was protested by Mrs. Celia M. Laczuk, 1739 Oak Bay Avenue, whose three-year-old son was killed in a traffic accident at the corner early this year.

The committee will recommend erection of signs on the Oak Bay Avenue approaches to the stop-and-go signal as a warning to motorists of their proximity to the important intersection.

The committee also decided to recommend installation of a stop-and-go signal at the intersection of Pandora Avenue and Fernwood Road.

Russian Takes Futurity Easily on Sloppy Track

VANCOUVER, Aug. 12 (CP)—The good-looking Russian, heavily favored to win the $100,000 Futurity, easily won the race today on a sloppy track.

He proved that he was a real winner, as he won the race in a time of 1:58.4, beating the second-place horse, a colt named "The Russian," by a margin of 1 1/2 lengths.

Kay Captures Grand Aggregate In Dominion Rifle Prize Meet

CONNAUGHT RIFLE RANGES, Hamilton Light Infantry Base, South March 10th, Aug. 12 (CP)—Team for its aggregate score of 1511 in four previous matches. All were in the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association annual shoot with a score of 587 out of a possible 630 in seven matches.

The next four highest were Sgt. W. V. Hall of Ottawa, 585; Maj. A. J. F. Roberts, Winnipeg, 583; and Capt. R. W. Hampton, Ottawa, 580. Hdr. F. E. Richardson, Victoria, had 581.

Sgt. Kay's score of 587 compared with a high of 594 fired last year by Lt. James Bos of Toronto.

The Grand Aggregate is the combined score of seven individual matches shot during the week. The Grand Aggregate plus the score fired in the Governor-General's Match final tomorrow gives the Blaney Aggregate. The top 18 men in the Blaney Aggregate are chosen to represent Canada at the Blaney Empire Shoot in Surrey, England.

Clear weather prevailed for today's firing with a slight wind and fair skies.

MANITOBA TRIUMPH
The London Merchants' Cup and 10 medals went to a team from the Manitoba Provincial Rifle Association, who shot a 509 out of a 600 possible. A British Columbia team, with second with 505 and Nova Scotia with 494. The match was open to provincial teams of eight marksmen and fired with 15 rounds.

Sgt. Lorne Kay of Hamilton of Ottawa won the consolation prize for competitors who had not won a prize in any of five previous matches counting towards the Grand Aggregate.

The Jubilee Cup was won by a five-man team from Ontario for their highest aggregate score in the qualifying stages of the Governor-General's Match. They fired yesterday a 782 out of 840 possible.

A team from British Columbia was second with 778. The London Challenge Cup and medals went to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Wiley Faces Stern Test In B.C. Clay Court Meet

VANCOUVER, Aug. 12 (CP)—Whether the temperamental newly-crowned king of Canadian tennis, Wiley, will prove another Lorne Main is a big question.

Ted Milton, tournament director of next week's British Columbia tennis championships, thinks Wiley's return has a good chance.

Wiley's return has a good chance. He said today as he prepared for the seven-day event, which will be held at the University of British Columbia, that he was better than the Canadian team.

Paul's victory in the Dominion championships has convinced him that he is one of the brightest prospects we've handled out here, said Milton.

The serious-looking Milton was instrumental in grooming Lorne Main for his rush to tennis fame, capped by his appearance in Canada's Davis Cup team this year at Montreal.

Like Main, Wiley has been offered a scholarship at Modesto Junior College, Modesto, Calif., rated as the best tennis centre in the United States.

Milton sent Main down there for the express purpose of pitting him against the toughest Californian opposition possible.

In the meantime, the up-and-coming Vancouver star will have his hands full in attempting to capture the provincial clay courts title. The meet runs from August 15 to 21.

Well-known Seattle's Bill Quilliam, one of the top four juniors in the south of the border.

Another United States ace, John Du Priest, of Tacoma, is entered for the meet. Ed will be hard to beat.

Lorne Main can't defend his junior crown because he's too old. Wiley's past record indicates he

Stukus Forms Strong Backfield For New Edmonton Grid Entry

EDMONTON, Aug. 12 (CP)—After long years out in the cold Edmonton returns to big-time football this year. And football enthusiasts in the oil-rich football city are looking forward to a strong backfield.

Hogan to Have Physical Check

PORT WORTH, Tex., Aug. 12 (AP)—Conquering Golfer Ben Hogan left Port Worth last night for New Orleans, where he will be examined by Dr. Alton Ochsley, noted specialist, who saved his life last March with a delicate blood clot operation.

The game, former kingpin of the nation's fairways said he hasn't played a round of golf since the February 2 auto accident in which he almost lost his life.

Asked how he felt, Ben Hogan replied: "I still have my aches and pains."

MOGUL IN LINE
For his forward walk the elder Stukus can count on only four seasoned men. Two of them are Andy Marple and gigantic Bill Rasmussen, who are imports; the other two are former Winnipeggers, Lou Mogul and Nate Shore.

But Mogul is 38 now and past his peak. He doesn't figure to point out in the line positions are a question mark and lack of depth here is the coaching staff's chief headache.

The team's bread-and-butter linemen include Ken Moore, Gene Rinsky, Bruce Marshall, Steve Paprocki, Johnny Dillinger, Red Stukus, George Shortreed, Bill Kirkwood, Bill Patterson, Alex Romanuk, Nick Albert, Jack Baldwin, Jerry Kershman, Fred Meeking and George Kershman.

Dmitri Goloubof, Bruce Pirl, Don Loucks, Harry Bunting and Jim MacRae have the inside track on the end berth. Their potential is an unknown quantity right now.

Government Wharf Will Be Replaced

Marine News

The large Federal Government wharf immediately adjacent to the Johnson Street bridge on the west shore of the upper Inner Harbor is to be replaced, it was learned yesterday.

Complete replacement of the wharf facilities has been pressed for some time.

Tenders for the job will be called shortly, and it is hoped the new wharf will be completed before the end of this year.

Mr. Morrison pointed out that the average life of piers such as those used in the old wharf, is about 25 years. Many of those supporting the wharf have been there since the project was built.

SHEDS TO REMAIN

Two large sheds now located on the wharf will be removed from their present location, and returned to the new structure. Tenders will also be called for the building of a new stores building. The property on which the wharf stands is owned by the Government.

It is expected that the new wharf and additional facilities will be "pretty high."

The new unit will be similar in size and practically all dimensions to the present one.

The survey just completed has included a collection of data on such matters as borings and pile penetrations.

PILING GOING

A number of the original pilings, it is reported, are "about as thin as a pencil" at certain points.

In verifying a report received yesterday, Tom Morrison—local agent for the Transport Department—said a fully qualified engineer from the Federal district engineers' office in New Westminster had spent the past week making a detailed survey of the ancient wharf.

The survey ended yesterday, and plans for the new structure will be drawn up in the New Westminster offices.

Frigate Gets Arctic Trip

The Royal Canadian Navy frigate H.M.C.S. Swansea will sail from Halifax August 24 on a four-week, 4,410-mile cruise to ports on the east coast of Baffin Island, it is announced by Naval Headquarters. The warship is commanded by Lt. John P. T. Dawson, R.C.N., 29, of Westmount, P.Q.

Most distant port of call for the Swansea will be "Foul Bay," a trading post and Department of Transport station approximately 1,000 miles north of Halifax. It is 300 miles inside the Arctic circle and the most northerly port ever to be visited by a ship of the R.C.N.

Primary purpose of the cruise will be to familiarize officers and men with operating conditions in the sub-Arctic. In addition, hydrographic observations will be made and scientific data collected.

PLAN REFUELING

On leaving Halifax the Swansea will proceed to Frobisher Bay, Baffin Island.

Canada, Russia Agree!

Canada and Russia came to agreement yesterday on ice-breakers. The Russians said the Russians, not the Canadians, made the first ice-breaker. The Canadians said they were probably right.

But, they reserved the right to chuckle over further Russian "first" claims which have already embraced the automobile, telephone, submarine and what-have-you.

It all appeared to be another internal ideological dispute anyway.

A Russian writer in the newspaper Red Fleet took issue with a "distortion of historical fact" in the Soviet encyclopedia which said "the first ice-breaker was built in Canada in 1837 for use on the Delaware River" in the United States.

Officials of Canada's Transport Department noted that the Encyclopedia Britannica says the steamer Pilot, launched in 1872, was the first ship specially designed as an ice-breaker. It was planned on the basis of experience gained by a Russian shipowner named Brinell.

The Pilot proved too light to break the ice by its own weight but it embodied principles that were generally accepted, the encyclopedia says.

An official book published here in 1905 refers to the launching in 1877 of "Canada's first ice-breaker," the Northern Light, built at Levis, Que., for the run from New Brunswick to Prince Edward Island. It cost $50,000.

So, all in all, the Transport Department made no attempt to quarrel with The Red Fleet.

RUSH TO SHIPS

Coast Guard vessels sped to aid three distressed vessels yesterday after towing two others to safety.

The cutter Balsam was en route to the tuna boat Capela which radioed Thursday it was disabled 118 miles southwest of Swiftsure Lightship. Earlier the Balsam had towed the disabled 46-foot Roiland into Grays Harbor from 20 miles northeast of the Columbia River Lightship.

Ninety miles southwest of Cape Flattery the Madeline J., a 56-tonner with three persons aboard, awaited arrival of the cutter McLane.

In Alaskan waters, the fish-packer Wanderer reported engine trouble at Swanson's Harbor in Icy Straits. It will be towed to Juneau by the cutter Storis. The Wanderer reported it had 16,000 pounds of salmon aboard and its ice running low.

A patrol boat took the 38-foot Pupper in tow from Taku Harbor to Juneau. The craft was disabled with a broken shaft.

$98,833 Federal Grant Made to St. Joseph's

The Federal Government has approved a grant of $98,833 toward construction of the new wing of St. Joseph's Hospital, according to word received from Fisheries Minister H. W. Mayhew at Ottawa.

The money is to be paid in installments, as the work progresses, the last amount being paid when beds are available for occupancy.

The Federal grant is on the basis of $1,000 a bed in line with the health assistance program laid out by the Government last year.

St. Joseph's will not obtain full benefit of the new arrangements, however, because construction was started before April 1 of last year, when the scheme became effective.

The Provincial Government is paying one third of the total construction cost, also in installments, as progress reports are received.

U.S. Plan On Tickets New Slant

It hasn't been suggested in Victoria yet, but it might be a good idea in view of the opinion of many that policemen should be doing more important work than handing out parking tickets.

A report from Spokane, Wash., says one safety commission there has proposed that civilians instead of policemen hand out parking tickets.

It would be better, he suggested, to have employees of the city finance department write the tickets and have violators pay their fines at the city treasurer's office instead of the police station.

"The public would probably like it better too," he added.

Why should we pay a man $25 a month to be a policeman, issue him a badge and a gun, give him special police training and then send him out to write parking tickets?" asked the commissioner.

It is expected his address to the local assembly will include reports dealing with generally lowering building costs and the possibility of lower-priced homes in the near future.

PLANS PROGRAM

Mr. Loughheed, making arrangements for the meeting here, reports most of the visiting building men will remain in this city for several days. It will be possible for them to participate in golf, fishing and sightseeing tours.

Second guest speaker at the September 15 meeting will be R. G. Johnson, managing director of the association.

Other top-ranking officials of the construction organization to be here will include Albert Deschamps, Montreal, immediate past-president of the national body; George H. Wheaton, Victoria, vice-president; Toronto, vice-president; and Ralph Byrnes, president of the Vancouver Builders' Exchange.

Chairman of the evening meeting will be Walter Luney, president of the local branch.

Wayward juveniles can be sentenced in "hard labor"—by their angry parents.

The other day, two young boys, aged 14 and 15 years, were caught stealing corn from market gardeners at Shakespeare Street and Burton Avenue.

They implicated a 13-year-old accomplice, whom police placed in the same boat with the other two. Gardeners said an estimated $200 damage has been caused in the week past.

Parents of the three culprits promised to take care of their offspring "adequately."

In addition, they told police, the boys will work two hours a day for a week as compensation to the gardeners.

Jamaica is the largest island in the British West Indies, forming part of the Greater Antilles.

Referring to the case as a "despicable offence," Magistrate Thomas said it was unfortunate that the by-law tied the hands of the court in levying a suitable fine.

NEEDS AMENDING

"The parking meter by-law needs amending to take care of future infractions of this nature," declared the magistrate.

Addressing counsel for the trio, Magistrate Thomas stated: "You can take back to your clients the fact that they have had the benefit of a poorly-worded by-law. If the by-law had allowed it, the fine would have been heavier."

Simpson, Clarke and Hood were charged by Constable Bonar Hanney after a lengthy investigation. The offences took place on Broad and Johnson Streets August 2. The convictions were the first of this kind.

Leather Week Planned Here This Month

First of a series of British "Leather Weeks" to be staged in major Canadian cities will be held in Victoria from August 15 to August 20.

During the week, sponsored by the Leather, Footwear and Allied Industries Export Corporation, representing more than 1,800 British manufacturing and retail leather goods stores will feature a wide range of luggage, footwear, handbags, gloves and dress accessories.

MATERIALS AVAILABLE

With raw materials once again available, British manufacturers are hoping to demonstrate the renewed vitality of the leather industry.

New designs, combined with traditionally fine workmanship, are already reaching the postwar export markets in Canada.

A film, "Leather in Fashion," will be shown at local theatres next week in connection with the promotion drive.

CORNER BROOK, Nfld., Aug. 12 (C.P.)—Bowaters paper mills, biggest in the world, may be forced to close down its sulphite mill at the end of this year, the Newfoundland Federation of Labor was told today.

Wayward juveniles can be sentenced in "hard labor"—by their angry parents.

The other day, two young boys, aged 14 and 15 years, were caught stealing corn from market gardeners at Shakespeare Street and Burton Avenue.

They implicated a 13-year-old accomplice, whom police placed in the same boat with the other two. Gardeners said an estimated $200 damage has been caused in the week past.

Parents of the three culprits promised to take care of their offspring "adequately."

In addition, they told police, the boys will work two hours a day for a week as compensation to the gardeners.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

CALLING IT A "ROUND ROBIN"
Today "round robin" is just another name for a petition. This may be merely a request for some particular action, or an endorsement of certain action, to which a number of people sign their names. Its modern usage is perhaps as often of this nature as it is in the sense of a complaint. However, it is in the latter sense that it had its origin.

In 1731 there appeared in the "Gentleman's Magazine" this definition of the expression: "The method used by sailors when they mutiny, by signing their names in an orbicular manner which they call a round robin."
And so it originated, as a nautical term, in times when of all down-trodden humanity seamen were among those subjected to conditions often beyond the point of tolerance. When they objected, which meant mutiny, self-preservation required complete unanimity, and if the order of signing complaints had been apparent, it would have gone hard for the leaders. The "round robin" which men signed in a circle provided a disguise as logical as it was ingenious.
